

RhPf Family – Artist Terms & Conditions

These terms define the mutual understanding between RhPf Electronics and the artists who are part of the RhPf Family. They're here to keep things fair, transparent, and aligned with the values that brought us together: trust, creativity, respect, and a shared love of music.

1. Access to Products

As a member of the RhPf Family:

- You may purchase any RhPf product at cost (CHF 99.00), regardless of the retail price (CHF 149.00).
- These units are strictly for personal use and must not be resold, gifted, or transferred to others.
- Each product is linked to your name or band identity.
- Artist pricing is valid for up to 5 units per year unless otherwise agreed, to keep it fair and sustainable.

2. Creative Collaboration

If a pedal, sound, preset, or another creative element is co-developed with you:

- RhPf retains the right to produce and sell the final design under the RhPf brand.
- You'll always be credited for your role, and we're happy to discuss additional visibility or perks depending on the depth of the collaboration.

3. Our Commitment to You and What We Ask in Return

By being part of the RhPf Family, we commit to:

Promote your work regularly, including:

- Sharing your latest creations on our social media at least once per month
- Highlighting your upcoming events, releases, and announcements
- Supporting you through various creative formats (reels, shoutouts, stories, interviews, blog posts)
- Speak positively and respectfully about you, both in public and private
- We will never expect promotion from your side, though we always appreciate it when it happens

We expect you to:

- Show genuine interest in the other artists featured in the RhPf Family
- Let us know if anything makes you uncomfortable or feels out of alignment
- Refrain from publicly speaking negatively about RhPf, just as we commit to always speak positively about you.

4. Your Visibility and Fair Use

- We may feature your name, band, music, photos, or quotes in RhPf content (social media, product pages, blog, etc.), always in a respectful and positive context.
- If you'd prefer to stay anonymous, not be tagged, or want to approve usage before it goes out, just let us know — we'll fully respect that.

5. Opting Out or Ending Participation

- You may leave the RhPf Family at any time, without notice or explanation.
- RhPf may also end this partnership with one month's written notice.
- If the terms of participation or our values are violated, RhPf reserves the right to remove an artist immediately.

6. Code of Conduct

RhPf is built on mutual respect, inclusion, and positivity. By being part of the Family, you agree to uphold that spirit. We reserve the right to terminate participation without notice in the event of:

- Hate speech
- Harassment or bullying
- Racism, sexism, homophobia, or any form of discrimination
- Public or private statements meant to harm RhPf's reputation or undermine trust
- Repeated breach of the product use guidelines

Likewise, we hold ourselves to the same standard: RhPf will always treat you and others with respect.

This is not a contract of obligation — it's a pact of trust.

We build our gear with and for artists like you. Without you, RhPf wouldn't exist — and we wouldn't want it any other way.
